

Prioritizing missions to the least-reached peoples

May 13, 2026

Greetings!

I want to urge you to prayerfully consider supporting a vital area of our ministry. Wilson Geisler, Joshua Project's Director of Operations, plays an indispensable role in strengthening the systems, people, and processes that enable us to serve the global church well.

Wilson uses his leadership and missions experience to strengthen Joshua Project's operational structure, helping us highlight people groups with the least access or response to the gospel. This directly helps the global church understand and support strategic mission initiatives. His work helps mobilize countless ministries and individuals as they join God in His Great Commission.

However, this work requires ongoing financial support.

Would you prayerfully consider joining Wilson's financial support team? Your generosity directly empowers his continued work, which touches not only the unreached peoples we aim to reach but also the broader global Christian community, equipping them with the information they need to prioritize prayer and mission work among unreached people groups. Every gift, large or small, makes a difference.

Thank you!
